Meridian Toolkit 4.2: Licence Summary

This page summarises the Meridian Public Licence, version 2, as it applies to Meridian Toolkit 4.2. The full text of the licence always takes precedence over this summary.

1. What you may do

1. Install the toolkit on any number of machines owned by your organisation.
2. Use the toolkit to build and ship your own products, including commercial ones.
3. Modify the source code and keep the modifications private.
4. Redistribute unmodified copies of the toolkit with a copy of the licence.

2. Licence tiers

Tier	Seats	Support	Price per year
Community	Up to 5	Public forum no response time promised	Free
Team	6 to 50	Email, next business day	1,900 EUR
Business	51 to 250	Email and chat response within 4 working hours	7,400 EUR
Enterprise	Unlimited	Named engineer and quarterly review meeting	On request

3. What you may not do

- Remove or alter the copyright notices in the source files.
- Offer the toolkit itself as a hosted service to third parties.
- Use the Meridian name or logo to suggest endorsement of your product.
- Transfer a seat licence to another organisation without written consent.

4. Attribution and configuration

Every source file that you redistribute must keep the header shown below. The licence tier and the seat count are set in the configuration file of each installation.

Copyright (c) 2026 Meridian Software Cooperative
Licensed under the Meridian Public Licence, version 2.
You may not use this file except in compliance with the Licence.

[licence]
tier      = "team"
seats     = 25
key_file  = "/etc/meridian/licence.key"
telemetry = false

5. Compliance checklist

☐ Record the number of active seats every quarter.

☑ Keep a copy of the licence in every distribution.

☐ Send the annual seat declaration before 31 January.

☑ Store the licence key outside the source repository.

Audit rights

Meridian may ask for a seat declaration once a year, with thirty days' notice. An audit is limited to records that show how many seats are in use.
