PROGRAMME

Fourteenth Northern Coastal Hydrology Symposium

9–10 June 2026 · Marrowick Conference Centre

The symposium brings together hydrologists, engineers and planners who work on estuaries, tidal rivers and low-lying coastal land. This year the programme gives particular attention to compound flooding, where storm surge and river discharge arrive together.

Parallel sessions run in three rooms on both days. Speakers are asked to load their slides in the preparation room at least one hour before their session.

Practical information

Registration	Foyer, from 08:00 both days
Wi-Fi	Network NCHS-Guest
Cloakroom	Lower ground floor
Help desk	Ext. 2040

Day 1 — Tuesday 9 June

Time	Harbour Hall	Estuary Room	Dune Room
09:00	Opening plenary Keynote: Forty years of tide-gauge records, and what they still hide Chair: Dr Hanne Solberg
10:15	Coffee break
10:45	Session 1A Storm surge forecasting	Session 1B Sediment transport in tidal channels	Session 1C Groundwater salinisation
12:30	Lunch — Terrace Restaurant
13:30	Session 2A Compound flooding: case studies	Session 2B Remote sensing of shorelines	Workshop W1 Open-source flood models: hands-on (bring a laptop)
15:00	Session 3A Early-warning systems	Session 3B Wetland restoration
16:30	Poster session and reception

Workshop W1 runs for three hours and has thirty places, which are allocated in order of registration.

Day 2 – Wednesday 10 June

Time	Harbour Hall	Estuary Room	Dune Room
09:00	Session 4A River–sea interaction	Session 4B Urban drainage at the coast	Session 4C Data assimilation
10:30	Coffee break
11:00	Panel: Who pays for coastal adaptation? Regional authorities, insurers and residents in discussion
12:30	Lunch – Terrace Restaurant
13:30	Session 5A Climate scenarios for estuaries	Field visit Marrowick tidal barrier (coach leaves from the main entrance)
16:00	Closing plenary and award for the best student poster

Social programme

- Tuesday 9 June
  - 18:30 Welcome drinks in the foyer
  - 19:30 Symposium dinner at the Old Customs House
- Wednesday 10 June
  - 17:00 Guided walk along the sea wall (about 90 minutes)

Places at the symposium dinner must be booked with your registration and cannot be added on site.

Registration fees

Category	Early	Standard
Full delegate	€420	€495
Student	€160	€190
One day	€240	€270
Symposium dinner	€65	€65

Early rates apply until 15 April 2026.